

One of the rows of racks in the radar office containing the data handling and computer equipment.